It's 1945. The war is over. Peace Prevails.
This is a story about Nick, an eighteen year old German immigrant in London. He has a job interview with one of the richest in town.
However, the chance of getting out of poverty didn't come easy.
Taking on this journey, Nick struggles to put his best face up and finds himself in situations that are rather tricky to get out of.
Would the struggling innocent achieve the betterment he longs for?
